Circle the mistakes and identify why it is wrong. How could it be corrected or what should be included instead?

Who – I was at a meeting with Hillary and a provider from the mental health center

Where – at the mental health center

When – on a Wednesday morning in April.

What – Hillary was upset about something and looked very depressed. I think she had another fight with her boyfriend last night and may have gotten beaten-up a bit. She looked as if she hadn't showered or eaten in some time and I think she looks like she's using drugs. The boyfriend probably does drugs. The mental health person was asking about Hillary's feelings and some safety questions. I think the woman believes Hillary should leave the boyfriend. I agree that she should get her act together or maybe take Prozac for the depression. I told the mental health person that the boyfriend does seem to be a bad influence. Hillary said that she was thinking of leaving the boyfriend, but I doubt it. She did agree to consider taking medication.

Plan – We all agreed to have another meeting, and, in the meantime, I would work with Hillary.

Next meeting – I will text Hillary sometime in the next few weeks to follow-up.
